BUILDING STONE SOLUTIONS

Rustic Wilderness

Our Rustic wilderness Collection includes a great variety of colours and textures of natural edged stones laid in gentle flowing lines by skilled masons. The mostly rectangular stones are reminiscent of old traditional stone buildings where masons split and shaped each piece to fit angular lines. The natural bed layers visible in the stones highlight the footprint of time and gravity as sediment turned to rock.

Rubble

Stones in our Rustic Rubble Collection have one thing in common, they combine different shapes, sizes, and colours into an artisans collage. With the right mason, or artist, each wall or fireplace transforms into a work of fine art. These collections convey moods and tones that enhance other handmade craftsmanship details both inside and outdoors.

Contemporary

This new collection of stones will lead the changes we see in masonry styles for years to come. Because they only have 2 heights, you are able to lay them with no joint (in thin veneer), very tight joints in full bed or traditionally with a 1/2" joint. Many designers are also choosing to have the stones laid in a straight line alternating the heights per course. This contemporary look is everywhere and gives bricklayers a chance to speed up jobs by laying natural stone similar to bricks. The most important characteristic for this product line is our confidence that all the stones in these blends will not change colour over your lifetime, or for generations to come.

3 and 5 inch high pieces allows design versatility.
8" heights also avail.
